

lumierework

Master Any Moment

INTERACTIVE EXPERIENCES

Table of Content

— Intro

An new mastery for today's leaders

— Interactive Experiences

What it is and why it's relevant

— Interactive Benefits

Who it's for and what difference it makes

— Facilitator

The driving force and creative mastermind

— Contact

Starting a journey of transformative success

— Intro

A new mastery for today's leaders

The world is changing in extraordinary and dramatic ways. Economic upheaval, social unrest, health crises, climate change; anything, even the unthinkable, is possible. To remain competitive, companies must transform as they perform – making gutsy-yet-disciplined decisions as they tackle disruptive challenges and make big things happen the right way, through ideas that people are aching to get behind.

It's not an easy task, and there isn't a moment to waste.

I'm Kathleen Joy. My calling is to help leaders shift their perspective, embrace their power, and become instruments of transformative change.

-Kathleen Joy,
Founder & CEO of LumiereWork™

Times are changing radically fast.

Now, more than ever, leaders need the techniques to be nimble, proactive, innovative, perceptive, empathetic and collaborative to build something better than the original and thrive.

This type of mastery is not easy to achieve.

At LumiereWork™, we can help your leaders and teams start their journey toward transformative success.

— Change leadership is required for a changing world

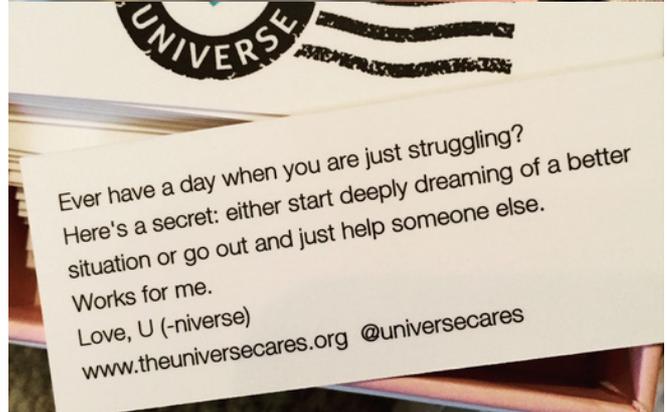

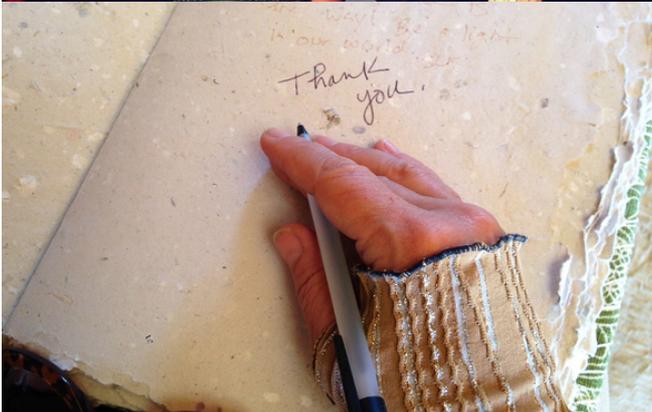

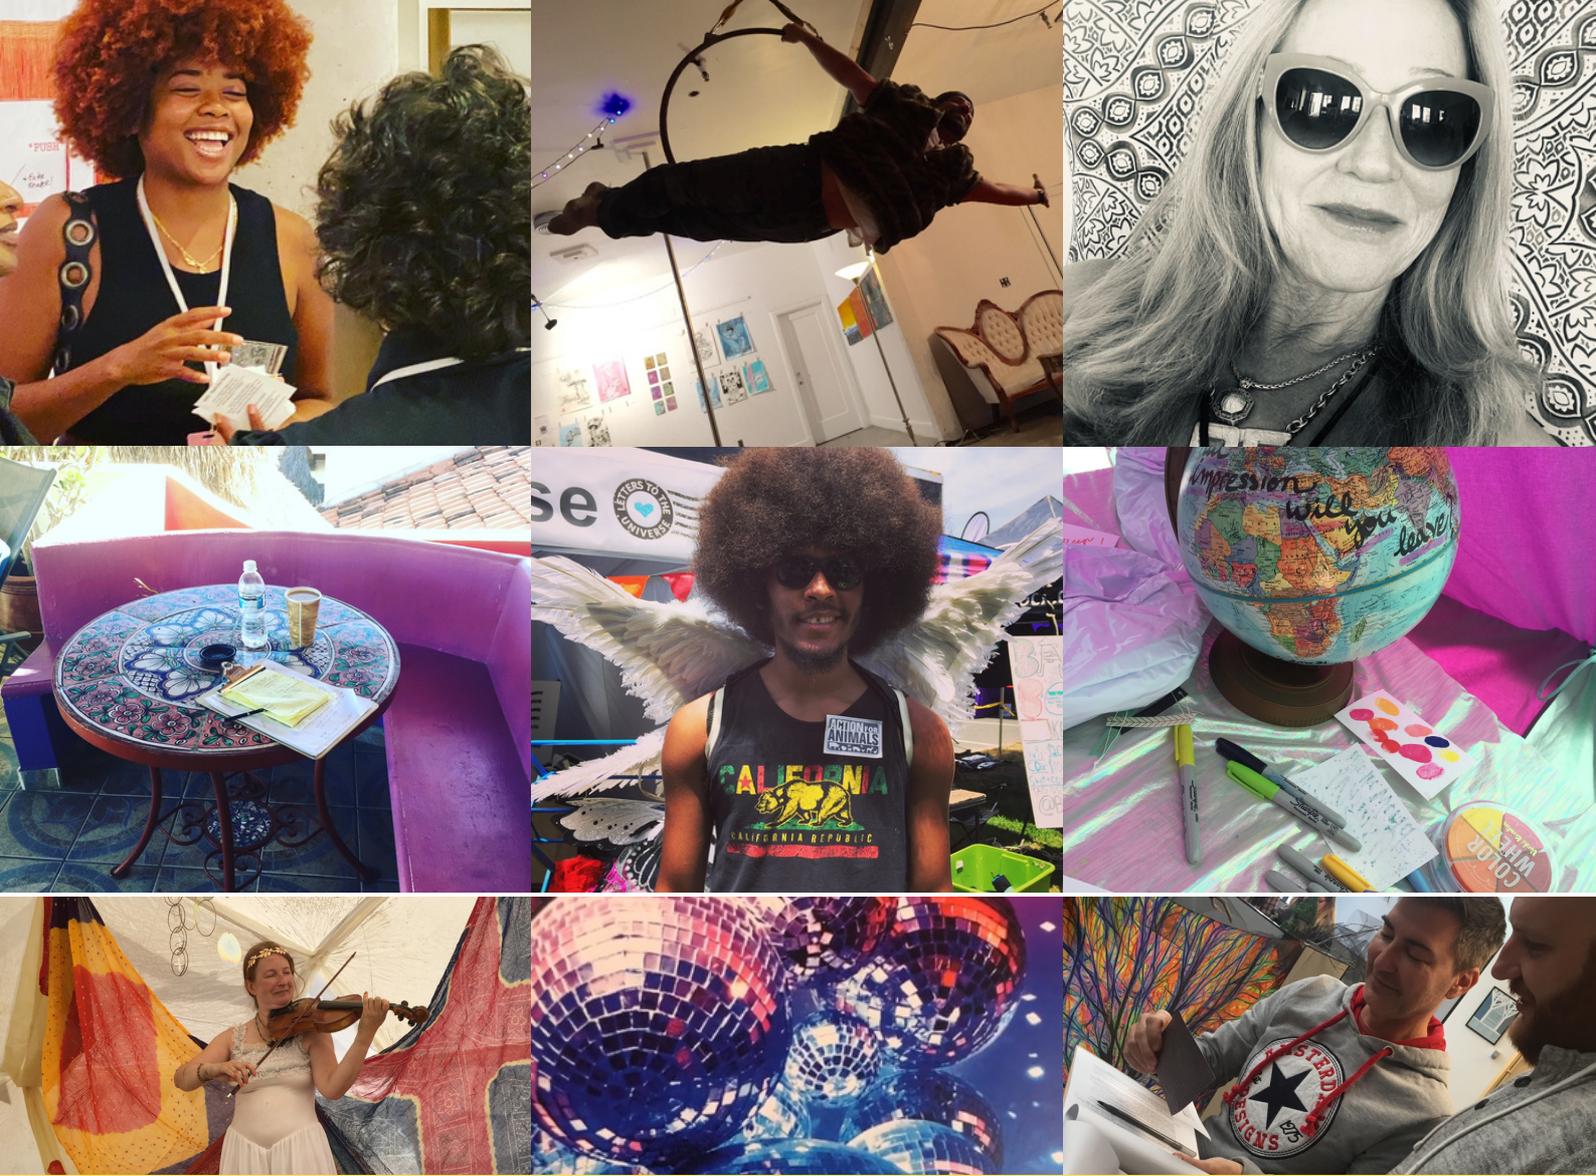

INTERACTIVE EXPERIENCES

Extraordinary leadership starts with creative, powerful transformation

There is no how-to manual for navigating the challenges of a complex world. You can't just attend a few theory-based courses to learn how to lead.

Change only happens when you learn by doing – having tangible experiences, being immersed in real activities, testing out new approaches, reflecting on your responses, and then adapting your focus going forward.

Interactive Experiences Offerings

Our Interactive Experiences are designed for teams and groups in medium size companies to large organizations. Based on adult learning theory, multi-sensory stimulus and wholistic intelligence, the experiences create teachable moments and assist learning by doing. Over a few hours or days and using a variety of well-designed experiential activities we teach leaders and teams a clear set of objectives in a fun, challenging and experiential way.

— Do vivid experiences lead to fast-tracked results?

Yes. Vivid, memorable and highly creative experiences result in fast-tracked learning and lasting results. Transformative change management demands that leaders sense, learn, and adapt quickly, and interactive learning enhances these abilities.

Direct experiences provoke the whole mind/body system. When we engage with novelty and the arts, stretch our comfort zone, we open ourselves to learning. We teach leaders and teams a clear set of objectives in a fun, engaging manner by taking them through challenging and experiential experiences.

Do smart people make better leaders?

“Smart” as we typically define it is not enough. We need to develop more of ourselves to learn faster, adapt and build resilience.

If our brain harbors extraordinary potential, it is only the tip of the iceberg of what our whole self has to offer.

In today's fast-moving world, teams and their leaders need to be cognitively, emotionally, physically and subtly intelligent to stay ahead of change. Our methodology leverages the whole person and opens up avenues to new data, inspirations, collaborations and bonding.

— INTERACTIVE BENEFITS

Our highly creative, whole-person intelligence programs, installations and performances deliver holistic tools for change.

At LumiereWork™, we offer experiences that:

- Increase engagement,
- Encourages divergent and critical thinking,
- Enhances empathy, compassion,
- Raises emotional, physical and subtle intelligence,
- Increases problem-solving skills, and
- Sparks creativity and innovation.

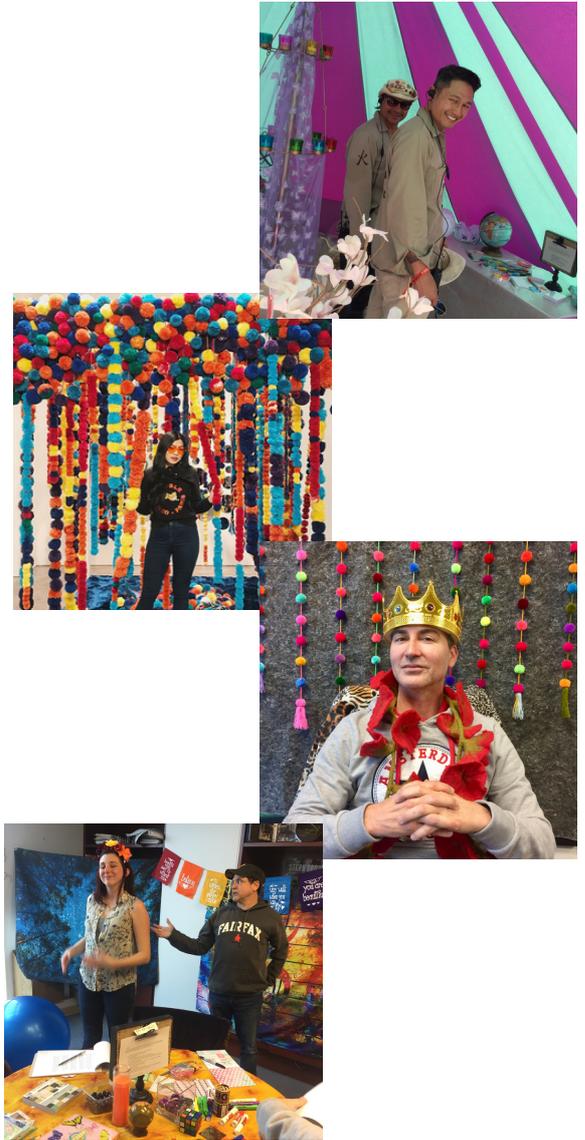

— FOUR INTELLIGENCES

Learn more about our intelligence programs and experience how they will impact your leaders' abilities to master change.

- Cognitive intelligence helps to lead with logic. It's the ability to think clearly, solve problems, and make rational decisions.
 - Emotional intelligence helps to lead with synergy and service. It's the ability to read people, lead with compassion, and navigate relationships.
 - Physical intelligence helps to lead with energy. It's the coordination, strength and stamina needed to do your job well.
-
- Subtle intelligence helps to lead with inspiration. It's the sixth-sense intuition that allows you to imagine beyond the obvious and come up with transformational new ideas.

At LumiereWork™, we refine and magnify all four types of intelligence in our training programs.

— Vivid experiences will transform leadership, magnify teamwork and enhance engagement.

Expand your leaders' and teams' foundational learning with custom experiences designed to achieve culture building and promote a higher level of performance with long lasting results.

We deliver
— memorable Events
with a very high impact

"The LumiereWork™ experience is completely unique and engaging. It's a well-crafted interactive piece that pulls you out of everyday life and drops you into a unique world that brings your curiosity and creativity front and center"

-Stephen Albonico,
Metaverse Technology
Innovation at Accenture

— Facilitator

Kathleen Joy

As the founder and CEO of LumiereWork™, I'm on a mission to ignite the joy and power of transformation in each and every leader and team.

For over two decades, I've been pioneering growth through holistic intelligence – simply, bringing your whole self to the world. I believe that everyone has the resources and intelligences to get what they desire, but few know how to seize them. My unique methodology gives changemakers the tools to perform at their best, delivering benefits that are both transformative and sustainable.

The LumiereWork™ experience brings together world-class consulting, personalized coaching, energy practices, and behavioral science to deliver change at scale – improving individual agility, impact and resilience.

The results?

Leaders who make an authentic difference, acting consciously and fully with great clarity and purpose, even in times of radical change.

-Kathleen Joy,
Founder & CEO of LumiereWork™

Learn more about our programs, installations and performances and start your journey toward transformative success for your leaders and teams.

— Contact

+1 415.596.3887

kathi@lumierework.com

www.lumierework.com

lumierework

Master Any Moment